ORGANIZATION SET-UP AND STAFFING

The ADF has implemented projects throughout Afghanistan and works in various parts of the country through a team of 82 experienced, professional, and qualified staff members. Of these, 19 are core personnel at the central and regional office levels. In contrast, the remaining staff members are deployed for specific projects and interventions in the field.

The Afghan Development Foundation (ADF) is led by a Board of Directors and three top-level management positions: the Executive Director, Director of Operations, and Director of Programs. This executive team is supported by middle-level management staff in the Program and Operations departments. This leadership structure is primarily responsible for managing, developing, and maintaining the ADF's strategic plan and overseeing the organization's planning, operations, finance, and communication functions.

The ADF has established comprehensive written procedures and policies covering Program/Project Management, Financial Management, Operations Management, Communication, and Reporting to ensure robust and consistent practices.

PROGRAM MANAGEMENT MANUAL

This manual outlines how the ADF envisions its future, considering its past and present experience. It details the organization's approach to planning, conducting, controlling, communicating, and evaluating its core activities as reflected in its programs and projects.

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT POLICY

This Policy & Procedure Manual describes the organization's financial system and management. It includes details on the ADF's budget control mechanisms, guidelines on the value of money, authorized payment methods, and other finance-related rules and regulations that govern the foundation's financial practices.

OPERATIONS MANAGEMENT MANUAL

These manuals state the policies and procedures for personnel Management, Recruitment, Administration, Logistics, and Procurement within the Afghan Development Foundation.

COMMUNICATION AND REPORTING

This policy explains the organization's communication and public outreach strategy and reporting system. ADF's Management is directly supervised by an active Board of Directors of 7 members. The Board has a chairperson who is responsible for management and leadership.

The ADF Board of Directors' primary function is to set the organization's policies and strategies, ensuring they align with the agreed-upon purposes, principles, and scope of the ADF's programs.

Specifically, the Board is responsible for:

- Setting operational guidelines, work plans, and budgets for the ADF
- Providing policy and program support
- Making funding decisions
- Setting criteria for and appointing review panels and/or support groups
- Establishing a framework for monitoring and periodic independent evaluation of the performance and financial accountability of the ADF's supported activities.
- Through these wide-ranging responsibilities, the ADF Board of Directors is vital in guiding the Afghan Development Foundation's strategic direction, operations, and overall governance.

One of the Board's primary responsibilities is representing the ADF in the larger community. This involves:

- Representing the views and interests of the ADF in various constituencies or external organizations.
- Coordinating with outside agencies on behalf of the ADF.
- Advocating for the ADF and mobilizing resources

The Board often serves as the first point of contact that the ADF's target audiences have with the organization. In some cases, the Board's high standing in the community means they are the first to hear the concerns of affected people. The Board's presence and engagement in the field can pressure decision-makers to listen to these community concerns and help open up alternative solutions. This representative and advocacy role is crucial in amplifying the voice of the ADF and the people it serves.

POLICY AND LEGAL POSITION

As an implementing organization, ADF makes itself available to work with various governmental and non-governmental donor agencies. ADF's activities, efforts, and required actions, including its operations, finances, and management, are non-governmental and non-profit. The organization is registered with the Afghan NGOs Coordination Bureau (ANCB) and the Ministry of Economy, holding registration number 257. This formal registration status underscores ADF's position as a legitimate non-governmental organization in Afghanistan.

ADF has been given the right to work anywhere inside Afghanistan without restriction and has full authorization to seek financial resources and implementation possibilities for the planned relief and rehabilitation projects in Afghanistan.

ORGANIZATION CAPACITY

As the background information states, ADF is equipped with the tools and informatics to implement its activities independently. It proudly says that, based on its experiences over the last twenty years, it has proved to be the better organization in the communities, districts, and villages.

ADF has all the tools and machines for construction/ reconstruction projects inside Afghanistan, facilities that provide the material, and shipments to site offices and distant provinces. It also has considerable experience leading educational activities throughout Afghanistan.

IMPLEMENTATION STRATEGY

ADF's core strategy and policy is to build upon and strengthen existing local institutions and capacities within Afghanistan. The foundation aims to develop local capabilities, utilize allocated resources effectively, and improve rehabilitation and development projects' technical aspects and overall efficiency. In delivering its services, ADF is committed to practices that ensure gender equity, robust community engagement, and active participation of youth. This community-centric approach is central to ADF's development philosophy and program implementation. By leveraging local institutions, building local capacity, and prioritizing inclusive community involvement, ADF's strategy seeks to foster sustainable, locally-driven progress and impact across its areas of operation.
